by their lady patrons.

The late Mrs. L. L. Camp was a sister of F. E. Hinman and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Sarah M. Merriam of Meriden.
The remains will be interred in the West cemetery in that city.

Pease has the Ladies' Home Journal for February.

The condition of Principal L. L.
Camp last evening was no worse. He seemed a little improved yesterday afternoon.

A Washington dispatch says: The section of the sundry civil bill appropriating $3,000 for the new fog signal at New Haven has passed the house in a committee of the whole without amendment. "This practically insures its passing the house."

The New Haven liquor dealers held a

The Bark Ben Achmet Troupe.
To the Editor of the JOURNAL AND COURIER: I have no disposition to quarrel with Mr. Thomas or Mr. Young over the past, present or future of the Bark Ben Achmet troupe of acrobats who are now playing at my theater. Neither am I disposed to cavil at the silly statement of these two gentlemen that I am presenting such a splendid attraction for a dime; I rather appreciate that as an unintentional compliment to the resources and managerial skill which can so favor the people of New Haven.

But as to the Achmet troupe.
Mr. Young admits that they were a feature of the Barnum-Bailey circus last season. If they are not to be next season, I can only regret that Mr.
Bailey is to deprive the people of other cities of the chance to witness their great performance. No one will suffer in New Haven for it would seem as if about everybody in the city has been to the Wonderland theater to see them.
If Mr. Thomas himself hasn't seen this troupe perform, I extend him a cordial invitation to visit my theater and occupy my best box, free of expense.
Then, if he doesn't agree with me that this troupe would be a star feature, even of "The Greatest Show on Earth," and cannot honestly so assure other managers who may feel envious of the extraordinarily liberal patronage extended to my theater, I will have less respect for his judgment of what is a real attraction than I now entertain.
The same invitation is open to anyone who may feel badly over the great success of this troupe.

were unexpectedly received ordering

To the Shareholders of The Co-operative Building Bank of New York.

In accordance with the articles of association I submit herewith the annual statement of the condition of the bank at the close of its fourth business year, December 31st, 1894.

The total assets are now $250,332.67, an increase of $248,442.36 during the past year, which is nearly identical in amount with the increase made during 1893, and $41,600 in excess of the increase during 1892.

There was paid to withdrawing members during the year 1894, $84,185.61.
These withdrawals have in all cases been paid as soon as the proper papers were filed in this office, and we have frequently received letters commending our promptness, and adding that the money thus accumulated and withdrawn proved of great assistance at a time of special need.

We have increased our mortgage loans $300,735 during the year, the amount of bonds and mortgages now held by the bank being $740,935, and the appraised value of the property pledged as security $1,215,840.

Believing that no better assurance of our future prosperity can be presented than the record of the steady growth during the past four years, I am, gentlemen,

Very respectfully your obedient servant,
F. W. FARNHAM, Secretary.

New York, January 22, 1895.

A detailed statement with question and answer book explanatory of our
